YEAR UP ARIZONA ENROLLMENT TEAM UPDATE- WE ARE VIRTUAL

LETTER FROM OUR FOUNDING EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, KIM OWENS

Dear Valued Community Partner,

First, we'd like to express our tremendous gratitude for your partnership and the service you provide to our Year Up community. We recognize that you must also be going through a difficult time right now. It's during times of uncertainty that we most need to band together, and we're grateful to be here for one another. We'd also like to provide you with information on how Year Up is moving forward. Our mission to close the Opportunity Divide by providing high quality training and support to our young adults is unwavering. This pandemic has created unique hurdles for Opportunity Youth, and we are more committed than ever to our work empowering talented young adults, both during and beyond this unprecedented crisis.

We have shifted all elements of our program to a virtual environment to combat the spread of COVID-19. Last week, our students were equipped with the necessary technology and training to be able to attend classes, participate in coaching, and communicate with Year Up staff and mentors. We're also working with our corporate partners to support Year Up interns so that they can perform remote work effectively. Further, we're moving our recruitment activities online so that prospective students can attend live virtual information sessions and enroll for the next program cycle entirely online. We're working out the details of how we'll continue engaging with our volunteers—such as virtual guest speakers and mock interviews—and will let you know as we have more information. And like you, we have paused all in-person events for the time being and are planning to move them online or reschedule as soon as we're able to do so.

Stay tuned for more information on how our organizations can continue working together. And if you have any best practices for navigating this new situation, please do let us know. We're confident that what we learn through this crisis will make our young adults and organization stronger. Thank you again for your compassion, generosity, and partnership.

Kim Owens, Founding Executive Director Year Up Arizona
